Mainline Closure – Western Australia (WA)

UPDATE 4 (16:00hrs 6/3)

WA Bushfires – 4th March 2019

CUSTOMER SERVICE CONTACTS

Dear Pacific National Customer,

The latest advice from ARC Infrastructure indicates that the fires in the Jumperkine/ Avon Valley area are now under control and do not pose a threat to the rail corridor. ARC Infrastructure was granted access to the area this morning (09:00hrs WST) to undertake the necessary remedial works i.e. clear the rail corridor of any debris and restore signalling and communication.

Restoration of the mainline has been tentatively forecast at 18:00hrs (WST). However, it should be noted that this forecast is based on all critical works being completed during daylight hours today (6th March); should this not be achieved track restoration may be pushed back to Thursday (7th March) morning - TBA. Speed restrictions will apply for an initial period once the track is reopened.

The following update to Pacific National trains impacted by this event has been based on an 18:00hrs (WST) restoration of the mainline:
